Comments: I strongly oppose the Stibnite Mine project. The river and the natural habitats it supports must stay protected and not be damaged by this project. The project would wreak havoc on the wildlife as well as local economies along the river. The river should be preserved for people to enjoy for decades to come and the mine project threatens this greatly; something will inevitably go wrong with a mining project and the water will be polluted and poisoned. The river should be kept clean for wildlife to thrive and for humans to continue to be able to enjoy it and also for the people who make their livelihoods based on the traffic and activities the river brings to local areas.
