Comments: Do not establish this mine in this wild, beautiful river. It will irrevocably damage key habitat for fish, plants and wildlife, and ruin recreational opportunities and opportunities for people to connect with this wild place. Moving forward with this project would clearly signal placing the interests of a few individuals above the health of an entire watershed and the ecosystems that rely on it, harming communities of people and accelerating the alarming trend of ecosystem degradation that threatens our future. Make the clear, science-driven and community-supported obvious decision to protect this key waterway from this harmful mine.
