Comments: I can see nothing but positive consequences by allowing the Stibnite Gold project move onto their next phase of operation. The necessary environmental precautions have been addressed and mitigated and the local and State economies will benefit tremendously from this project.  Mining projects such as the Stibnite Gold project need to be competed in the US rather than in other countries because in this country mining companies must adhere to strong environmental and safety regulations unlike in most foreign countries, not to mention the high degree of corruption that often occurs in these third world countries. In conclusion, please see your way to granting Stibnite the necessary permits to begin mining this great opportunity.
