Comments: As a citizen and active public land user and supporter I encourage that consideration of the full cost of the Stibnite Gold Project proposal be evaluated and accurately taken into account. Consideration of the immediate and long term disruption of the flora and fauna both directly and indirectly impacted by the projects foot print, the geologic susceptibility to earth quakes, the vulnerability of this unique water shed, the social costs of reducing access to public lands as well as the financial cost to tax payers who historically end up having to step in when a critical incident or environmental disaster occurs. I oppose this project and hope that the voice of the public will be given the same consideration as the dollar of the company. Because public land has value beyond what we can take from it!
