Comments: Hello, my name is Hannah Hill and I have lived in Idaho for five years. I am here to submit my concerns regarding the proposed Stibnite Gold Project by Midas Gold Idaho Inc. This project jeapordizes progress made in terms of land reclamation and will cause irreversible damage to at least 3,500 acres of natural land. Idaho politicians have failed to assess the grim reality of Midas' past regulation failures on their current sites. This proposed project would double the current mining area, risking further damage on already scarred natural land. It is our responsibility to prohibit companies from abusing Idaho's forests for financial gain. The implications of this project will not only impact our immediate future, but the wellbeing of all ecosystems relying on Idaho's National Forests for generations to come.
