Comments: What a great opportunity for Valley County and the many small businesses that depend on tourism. The Midas Gold, Stibnite Project is a generation+ sustainable enterprise. Jobs, with a livable wage, that will generate more support jobs to make Valley County the place to be in The West Central Mountains of Idaho.

Several studies are supporting the fact that this area is one of the top healthiest and desired locations in the Northwest. The St. Luke's Health Care System often refers to Valley County as a place to live.

What a better way than to have an Idaho Company come in to restore a Brown Field site and contribute millions in taxes for the betterment of The West Central Mountains. The economics of this project will sustain numerous small businesses for generations and invite yet to be discovered businesses to the Valley County Idaho.

The McCall Candy Company is/will benefit as will those around us from the economic input from this project. We request your support for the Stibnite Gold Project.
