Comments: Dear Forest Service

The almighty dollar seems to be "winning" while the price to pay is just the lives of species: lynx, the white-tailed ptarmigan, boreal owl, goshawk, American marten, olive-sided flycatcher, pygmy shrew, hoary bat and elk to name some for this particular project proposal. Things like new hiking and biking trails and expansions and resort boundary expansions are killing animals. The animals need a better voice in matters because the effects are already noticeable and yet they continue.

Sincerely

Lucas Sherman
