Comments: *Where are the footnotes that show the science behind many statements as to impacts and/or to justify the efficacy of the proposed mitigations? A long list of books and studies does little for the reader, since they will not be reading all these books and studies to find the relevant data or information.

* What is the logic behind decommissioning the Twisp River Road to Gilbert and Roads' End for reasons of protecting the fishery - but then converting the road into an ATV trail? In my mind, this defies logic.

*If one of the goals of this project is to increase trails and motorized use of a popular recreation area already heavily used by horsemen, hunters, hikers, cross-country skiers, mountain bikers, and others - as well as an exceptional population of diverse wildlife already adversely affected by the Crescent Fire - why is it called a "Restoration" project? It seems that a title such as "Twisp River Multiple Use Project" would be more appropriate.

* I'd suggest an Executive Summary of this EA, since it is very lengthy and extremely difficult in places to understand (lengthy sentences, technical language.)
