Comments: Kensington has been a great neighbor to all of Southeast Alaska. I know some people think that mining is just tearing up the Earth and polluting the environment. However, I have been to the site on several occasions and I am always impressed on how small the footprint of the site is and how the owners have continued to keep the area clean and free of mine pollution. So many of our local young people have found work either at the mine or with a vendor relying on the mine that losing the mine would devastate our local job economy that is already reeling from the latest pandemic. We need more projects that build local year round jobs to support our community, not limiting the ability Juneau has of supporting ourselves.

I am in support of the mine!
