Comments: Please don't allow this idiotic idea to come to fruition. Please. Just don't. The forest doesn't need this, nobody needs this. The forest is not just another place to turn into just another Disneyland. If you can't enjoy the solitude and peace of nature as God made it, then you don't belong there. Stay in Albuquerque where you can find these mindless pursuits around every corner. The forest should be peaceful, quiet protected and lonely. We don't need to attract more people, especially people who have no concept of the value of wilderness.
