Comments: Please do not disturb the pristine beauty and intact eco system in Twisp and the Greater Methow Valley region. This jewel of an area is highly valuable as wildlife habitat and outdoor recreation which drives the local economy. Any logging or similar disturbance no matter how well intentioned will cause silt to run in the nearby rivers that are finally seeing a salmon comeback. This will damage the rivers and salmon and other fish for generations. There are plenty of other areas in Washington that have trees if you need them, please leave this area alone. Thank you and Happy Holidays
