Data Submitted (UTC 11): 12/22/2020 4:06:15 PM
First name: Stephanie
Last name: Tardiff
Organization:
Title:
Comments: Continued cattle grazing, even with adaptive management and riparian restoration, would set back recovery of creeks, springs, plant diversity, and soils. Ongoing grazing would also threaten Steelhead and Redband trout, Columbia Spotted frog, Greater Sage grouse, declining bird species, and rare plants. Please do your jobs correctly and do not reauthorize grazing on this allotment. Implement the active riparian restoration they proposed in their Environmental Assessment.