Comments: Greetings, Supervisor Bail:

As Methow Valley property and business owners, my wife, Jackie Van Allen, and I support science-backed forest and aquatic restoration to improve forest health and ecological resilience in the Twisp River Watershed.

We oppose felling large, fire-resilient trees, riparian logging along the valley bottom, and logging in the ecologically sensitive Upper Twisp River watershed.

We realize you face a daunting task balancing the desires of disparate interests groups, and encourage you to give adequate weigh to the long-term interests of future generations of local residents, recreational visitors and -- most importantly -- the Methow Valley's ecology.

Sincerely,

Michael Guilfoil
