Comments: As a mountain biker, target shooter, and hunter, I fully support the development of designated shooting areas. This has to be coupled with greater funding for enforcement of existing regulations on shooting and littering to encourage people to use the new facilities. There was a popular public shooting range where I grew up that was managed by the local parks and recreation department. Though it did not stop dispersed shooting due to low enforcement, it lessened it in areas where people hiked and mountain biked. I have had close call near Old Stage Road where people shot skeet right on a 4x4 trail on top of a hill and their shot landed over the road.
