Comments: I live near Turkey Rock and hear gunshots from my home almost daily in the summer, and often during the winter. Besides the noise pollution, my biggest concern are the fires started by reckless gun owners. We live in the Hayman burn scar and tho a lot burned then, there is still quite a bit of forest that can still catch fire again. One of our neighbors had a window shot out last year. I like to ride my ATV on the many trails around here but even with a helmet on I can still hear gunshots. If someone were to be struck by a stray bullet no one would find them as remote as some trails are out here. It truly sounds like (in the summer especially) that people shoot all over the place out here - and I personally have seen evidence of it - and unless someone is shot, (sorry) we're too far out to anyone to bother to come enforce anything. This really needs to be reined in.
