Comments: The people proposing this revision who are proposing safety as the reason for eliminating / diminishing recreational shooting don't seem to understand the average gun owner. Most gun owners respect and honor safety above all else, and we do not want an accidental death or injury because of negligence. This is seen by most owners preferring to use a hill or berm in the background so that we know where the bullets will land.

I object to this revision as will many others and I hope you feel compelled to strike this revision down. I would like to challenge the proponents of this bill and the supporters to look at accidental injuries and deaths and try to compare that to the hundreds of people who visit the forest a day (pre-covid at least) and feel free to analyze and interpret freely.
