Comments: I absolutely support the efforts to develop designated shooting areas in the National Forrest.

However, I strongly disagree with limiting dispersed shooting. I think broadly limiting dispersed shooting has a negative impact on this living in the surrounding areas. Providing designated shooting areas would increase the health and safety in the Forrest. However, mandating all shooting in these designated areas unfairly penalizes the shooters who were already doing dispersed shooting safely and cleanly. Mandating designating shooting areas increases the risk to members and penalizes these citizens doing it correctly.

Therefore, I recommend increase the designating shooting areas WITHOUT mandating the elimination of dispersed hunting.

Rather, simply enforce the rules on the books and not make more rules. Littering is already a fine and so is dangerous discharge of firearms. Why do we need more rules. Simply make more available designated shooting and individuals will gravitate to those locations.,

Thank you.
