Comments: Having enjoyed riding a mountain coaster somewhere up north, Minnesota I think, and having seen how popular it was with all ages despite being out in the boonies, I think that a mountain coaster below Sandia Peak makes perfect sense. Given minimum impact on other uses in the area, it would generate much needed revenue for the area, as well as getting a lot of folks out in the fresh air and the woods who might not otherwise want to ski or mountain bike. To me, a mountain coaster would be a winner.
