

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/2/2021 8:06:51 PM

First name: Garrett

Last name: Jorgensen

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The Sandia Mountains contain a delicate karst landscape that contains voids, sinkholes, and caves. These features can not only be easily damaged, but could harm or destroy any infrastructure or construction crews by sinkhole formation or ground collapse. This risk should be mitigated by conducting a surface karst survey by a qualified cave and karst consultant.