Comments: This project, as proposed, looks like it would severely impact the very popular boggy draw trail system. As a resident of Rico, I use this trail system often. It's a nice reprieve from the strenuous mountain biking found in the mountains and it provides a lovely recreational opportunity on my way to Cortez to get groceries. My wife and I enjoy camping amongst the ponderosas, and the trails are a rare option in the region for beginner and intermediate riders. I would urge you to try and balance the need for forest thinning with the needs of the community for recreation. Thank you for the opportunity to comment
