Comments: My husband and I are avid mountain bikers. We live in Durango and utilize the Boggy Draw system trails year round. I have read the EA for the SVMP and it is clear that the trail system has been considered in the impact assessment.

I support the SWCCA in their concerns that some issues were not addressed in enough detail in the EA. Their comments are detailed and I'm sure you have them so I don't feel the need to repeat them, but I encourage you to take them very seriously. Keeping the trails open as much as possible during the logging operation, and restoring vegetation and repairing the trail damage as quickly as possible are priorities for me personally.

These trails are not known just by people in the Four Corners. On any weekend there are vehicles from all over the U.S. at the trailheads. These trails are no secret, especially for avid mountain bikers using trail apps such as Garmin, Trailforks and Mountain Bike Project. Your cooperation with stakeholders is an opportunity to showcase what is possible when we all work together to sustain trail systems during logging operations.
