Comments: I am a 3Xs/week Sandia Mountains hiker and have lived in Albuquerque for 45 years. I love that I can so easily access scenic wilderness that is beautiful, quiet and gives me solitude. I understand the ski area's desire to add income generating activities since climate change has so damaged the ski season on Sandia Peak; however, I am totally against adding an activity that adds noise to the Sandia environment. Noise travels in the Sandia Mountains and it would destroy the wilderness/nat'l forest experience that so many people cherish, now. It would also damage, significantly, the attraction of living in Albuquerque which is living in an urban environment that has such easy, quick access to peaceful, quiet beauty.
