

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 3/24/2021 5:36:36 PM

First name: Lois

Last name: Kennedy

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The mountain coaster in the Sandia Mountains would be bad for the environment & the health of some people. The path of the coaster would cut down trees. Trees absorb CO₂ (green house gas) and give off O₂. Therefore, cutting down trees. would would not give off O₂ which would make climate change worse for our city. Also, many people use the bike and walking trails. This is good exercise. Our city has enough overweight people. We don't need anymore. The coaster would not be good exercise. Also, there are wild animals there. This could push them down to the neighborhoods. Would you like a bear in your backyard? It is possible that it would not only disrupt the wildlife's territory but maybe also their food source. This would impact the whole ecosystem. The wildlife are having a hard enough time because of climate change. We aren't even getting our average precipitation of 9" a year. Also, I heard that an environmental impact study has not been done. Therefore, the reasons above, I am opposed to the mountain coaster.