Comments: Please consider the face you showing to the public. You are forgetting that you work for us.

I've grown up in this beautiful part of the world. There are many of us who feel inclined to speak out at this time, because it appears as though you care more about money than preserving this natural landscape that surrounds us here in the northwest.

I demand that the Forest Service either complete a full Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) or drop their logging plan altogether.

Proposed industrialization of the upper Nooksack for 15 years of logging will completely change the community's relationship with our own backyard.

An environmental study will prove this beyond a shadow of doubt.

Have you forgotten about all the threatened species that live in this area? A FULL Environmental Impact Study will give you a full list. It is not short.

Finally, it is reprehensible to think you can circumvent the will of the people of this fantastic Pacific Northwest.

How dare you?

Respectfully,

A proud American citizen.
