Comments: Hello,

I am a resident of Albuquerque and often spend time in the Sandias. I oppose the Mountain Coaster project because it will have destructive effects on land that is deemed sacred by the indigenous people who call it home. The destructive effects, like trash and sound pollution, will inhibit wildlife by causing irreparable damage to native species. There is a trickle-down effect and everyone who lives near or enjoys walking in the Sandias will suffer. The coaster will also have desctructive affects on the watershed, which is already suffering from the drought. I wonder how this project would also increase the amount of already raising wildfires?

The land offers so much and we should respect it and take care of it, not turn it into a literal amusement park. If people do not enjoy the mountains by just being in them then they can hang out in the city.

Thank you for taking the time to consider my opinion.

Best,

Sallie Scheufler
