Comments: I think building a coaster at Sandia Peak is utterly ludicrous. It would ruin the natural beauty of area & be very noisy. Simply having a nice meal after a tram ride would be impossible. This is a National Forest, not merely a theme park. We don't designate areas as National Forest to make money, but rather to preserve the land for its own sake. At least skiing takes advantage of the nature of the land and allows individuals to interact with the land itself. A coaster would desecrate the area, imposing itself on any creature within miles of it. The noise alone would ruin the area for everyone else.

I love amusement parks & roller coasters. The excitement, the lights, the noise are so much fun. But I also love the peace and wholeness that natural beauty provides. Both have their place. Please respect thst and disallow a coaster at Sandia ski area.
