Comments: As someone who frequents the mountains as a form of therapy, I believe a mountain roller coaster would disrupt the peace and quiet that so many seek out in the mountains. It would disrupt the ecosystem and animals' habitat, but it would also create so much more activity on a mountain that is already extremely popular. I feel like this is a stunt to make more money for the ski area and has no consideration for the actual environment it exists in and the people that use this space. Also I am not Native and cannot speak to the importance of the mountain to the Sandia Pueblo but I do know it is significant and it would be extremely disrespectful to build this.
