Comments: An environmental assessment or impact statement must be done. This project will draw an increased number of people to the area to use the mountain in different ways. This will undoubtedly affect wildlife, water flow and countless other factors. It is irresponsible not to require further information. To blatantly try to skirt rules meant to protect this sacred land (that has already been made largely inaccessible to its Indigenous people) is deplorable. If you truly want this area to be used for recreation, make it recreation accessible to and valued by its Indigenous stewards, not a roller coaster. Do better.
