Comments: Hello,

This supposed plan for a roller coaster through the Sandia's is an affront to the Indigenous people's who hold this land sacred. The state department, through centuries of genocidal practices and settler colonialism, have ended up in so-called "ownership" of these lands. It should be your duty to listen to the Indigenous voices who are speaking out against this proposed project, and I hope you will. They have unilaterally spoken out against this project, and by putting this project in place would be further desecrating the land which has already been harmed through the many years of colonialism. Pay respect to the stolen Indigenous lands which you occupy, or else by putting this project in place you will continue the cultural and physical violence that has been carried out by the settler state since it's inception.
