Comments: This sounds like you really care about treating these wild horses with care. But of course Americans have already seen how BLM (Bureau of Land Management) and their cohorts have treated and are treating wild horses using the very means you are discussing here. And also 50-103 horses is not a viable number to keep the diversity of the herds so you propose bringing in other horses. That's idiotic to round up horses and then implant other horses. I am definitely opposed to your ideas but as we Americans have seen in the past, you will do whatever you want to the wild horse population. It's really all about the cattle industry getting every inch of land for cattle grazing.
