Comments: This is a ridiculous idea. The world needs natural areas, areas without development. The way these things happen we will have nothing but parking lots and no paradise before long. Do people have to be entertained this way? Can't you promote entertainment by the natural world? Also it seems to me that it will be just another avenue for people to sue when they get hurt, which will happen. Let's not ignore the extra litter this will bring to the area, along with extra fire risk from people who will smoke. I'd rather have my tax dollars spent protecting and conserving the forest area, and not on building unnecessary structures and defending lawsuits. I expect there will be a charge to use this, plus concessions, cutting out people of minimal means who could otherwise enjoy the natural scenery, trails and wildlife. So who are you really representing here?
