Comments: I write in opposition to the Mountain Coaster project. At a time when unsheltered people in Albuquerque are daily and weekly being evicted from the places where they're camping, where there is inadequate support for people to find a dignified place to sleep, where people in our community are hungry, this use of resources is disturbing at best and quite problematic. Our responsibility as white settlers is to respect the sacredness of pueblo lands, not desecrate them by funneling money into tourist projects that will bring noise pollution, disturb habitats, increase trash and disregard for the Sandia mountains. Please do not move forward with this project. There are many better uses for these funds that minimize the impact on wild spaces, honor the Tiwa people and their sacred mountain, and support life and needs of people impacted by the economy and other forms of hardship.
