Comments: As a resident of New Mexico with an investment in it's environment and Native peoples, I oppose the construction of this project.

Land not currently used for entertainment or profit motive is not land unused. This project would not only be an eyesore on the local landscape, but would bring disruption to the surrounding habitats.

If nothing else, it would be irresponsible to proceed without having done due research on those impacts.

Furthermore, in a country with such a long history of disregard and disrespect to it's indigenous people, one of the reasons I value New Mexico is that it engages with those cultures as a still living people rather than to pretend they do not exist. Given that this is a mountain which is sacred to the Tiwa, to ignore their desires and relationship to this site is unacceptable. As neighbors and fellow human beings, we must do better. If we do not respect what is so important to others, how can we respect ourselves?

Thank you for your time and consideration.
