Comments: to all this may concern,

i am against the building of the roller coaster on sandia mountain. although it would be enjoyable, it will be a short lived joy and it is not worth destroying the mountain for. the damage to the land just for the roller-coaster alone will have a negative effect, then include people in that equation. it will have such a terrible impact on that mountain and the environment of it. people and their littering habits, the foot traffic and noise, it would harm the whole ecosystem. animals and birds ether being scared off or worse, killed by human littering and trash. then theres the destruction of the plant life, which causes even more problems to the integrity of the mountain. i dont see it being worth having a roller-coaster that i may never get to enjoy anyways, when i can enjoy sandia mountain as it is now at its best. without people.

thank you for your time.

have a wonderful day
