Comments: Implementing a and amusement park ride into a natural area where it will affect both the flora and fauna is extremely irresponsible. This does not reflect positive environmental and sustainable habits and actions that are required to combat our state of climate emergency. Furthermore this land is historically stolen from indigenous people who should have the rights to decide what happens with this land. You're disrespecting the land, the people native to it, as well as the species that live among it with this project and it should be canceled immediately.
