Comments: I may not be a local of this area but I can see the lack in necessity in this project. This mountain is sacred to the local natives of this area. Long term "passive recreation" on this mountain is slowly going to destroy it. Extensive construction will drive animals from their homes. Traffic of any kind causes erosion, but human traffic of this kind results in trash, erosion and pollution. Damaging ecosystems such as this have irreversible effects. There are currently hundreds of roller coasters in the United States for people to enjoy and this seems like a very very poor use of time and resources. I would be very dissapointed to see this project come to fruition.
