Comments: To build a roller coaster on these sacred mountains is an atrocity against nature. Our planet is already struggling with environmental problems that world governments refuse to take seriously due to the impact reforms would have on profit incomes for capitalists. To disturb these mountains for the sake of profit gains and further disturb the small precious nature we have in this country is a step in the direction of destruction. The beauty of these mountains should remain raw and undisturbed, nature should be protected not further exploited to make a quick buck.
