Comments: This is an outrage. A joke to propose building on a sacred site. There needs to be a conversation with the nearby Pueblo and an environmental impact assessment before proceeding with this ridiculous project. It must be hard to understand why a peoples would choose an elder, a relative, a home over their entertainment but understand that is what this place is to a peoples that have been walking this land hundreds of years before another human being's arrival on this continent. This is a living breathing relative to them. Have some respect!!! Leave it alone!!!
