Comments: The Rapid River Trail is a special jewel in Idaho's backcountry crown and most assuredly SHOULD NOT be opened ups to motorized vehicles! Within moments of leaving the trailhead, one is face-to-face with a magnificent view, as far and precipitously below, the wild and turbulent river claws its whitewater way downstream. There is nothing I know as spectacular as that scene, and one's journey on the Rapid River Trail has only just begun! Please protect the awe, wonder, and integrity of this spellbinding trail by keeping it free of motorized vehicles.

Thank you!
