Comments: I have yet to see any administrator who is truly advocating for the horses - only for special interests!!!!! Seems like agencies like this do not have appropriately trained or knowledgable people. If you knew horses you would not be so quick to get rid of them! These animals are a treasure. Many people come specifically come to see them. And yet there are special interests at work here that want to eliminate them. It is the job of the Forest Service to advocate for these animals. It is so unfortunate that greed wants their habitat and the Forst Service is ready to comply. Leave the horses alone. Dump the developers!
