Comments: I'm an avid fan of Points North Heli-Adventures with my favorite experiences being in the National Forest System. Their guides and operation are top notch focusing on safety and responsibility. They leave no trace and are extremely respectful to the environment. There's no place I feel more connected to the environment and outdoors than in Alaska. When we come to PNH, we also get to spend time in the charming town of Cordova. Cordova has opened their arms to skiers in the Winter while they wait for the Summer high season of fishing. I can't more strongly recommend PNH receive access to the permit area so they can continue showing off Cordova and Alaska in its best light in a responsible way.

Thank you,
