Comments: It's horrible and cruel to treat these animals this way. You are to protect not harm. So much evil is going on in the world. Please stop this pain. These animals deserve better than this. How does it feel to go home every day and knowing the horrible pain you've caused on some helpless animals? I wish I knew the words to say to make you understand how wrong this is. You have the power to protect but yet all you do is bring pain and suffering. Blood money that all it is. I pray that you stop this painful act from happening. Please, please stop this horror before it's too late. You have the power to stop this. I feel that one day you'll have to answer for your actions. If someone did you this way you would be screaming for someone to please help you. Think about it please. I beg you to stop this from happening please. Please find it in your hearts. They feel pain just like you and me. I might not be as smart as you but I know right from wrong and this is horribly wrong.
