Comments: Why is it that the automatic answer to land conservation is to eliminate the Wild Horse, there is plenty of grazing land and the livestock owners do not pay for this privilege. Why then is the Horse selected as excess. They were not excess when they pulled our plows, carried us into battle, or provided our primary means of transportation. They have earned the right to live and thrive in the wild with minimal thinning of the herds done humanely. What would happen if these livestock owners had their cows shot? There would be enforcement of the law, why do the horses not demand the same respect. Stop the BLM from putting a band aid on the issue by eliminating our Wild Horses.
