Comments: I have followed this issue for the 3 years I have lived here....I do not know what these horses are doing to cause such an uproar to a point you have to kill them. To control the amount, some of the males can be fixed? These are magnificent animals and the people questioning Land Management, is what is the real issues going on here. Who is the people wanting to kill them when the residence clearly want to continue enjoying these incredible horses. What is the truth? Please do not destroy...Sale or move to other land. Lots of options! I understand there is 100s of acres to share here. Save these gorgeous animals, God's creation! Thank you.
