Comments: I am writing because I live in an area where cattle and other animal grazing has degraded the land. I urge you as stewards of the American people's wilderness areas to protect not only the land, but also the native plants and animals there within. As a senior citizen with six grandchildren and twenty-three great nieces and nephews, I want the American wilderness to be there for them. The world is currently experiencing species extinctions at an alarming rate. Overgrazing will exacerbate this. Thank you.
