

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 4/16/2021 11:57:00 PM

First name: Linda

Last name: Gillaspay

Organization:

Title:

Comments: If humanity is going to survive global warming, one of the most effective ways of combating methane emissions is by feeding cattle a supplement of seaweed. This action MUST happen and needs to be reviewed immediately. Climate mitigation must be included in this decision.