Data Submitted (UTC 11): 4/16/2021 11:57:00 PM First name: Linda Last name: Gillaspy Organization: Title:

Comments: If humanity is going to survive global warming, one of the most effective ways of combating methane emissions is by feeding cattle a supplement of seaweed. This action MUST happen and needs to be reviewed immediately. Climate mitigation must be included in this decision.