

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 4/17/2021 3:43:09 AM

First name: Jon

Last name: Klingel

Organization:

Title:

Comments: It is long past time to remove livestock from wilderness and areas where they are impacting water quality, soil, wildlife, and/or vegetation. This includes most of the SW United States. Vacant allotments need to be permanently vacated. Forest Service management of livestock in New Mexico has been abismal for decades and the impacts are obvious to even the most casual observer. I suggest you look at the scientific data and make a rational decision, for a change.

Thank you.