Comments: Public lands are for the public, but mainly for the wildlife habitat that is needed for the survival of wild animals.

It sickens me to know that grazing, drilling, fracking, mining and other things are done on public lands by private corporations and organizations. This should not be allowed!

They should purchase their own lands to graze, drill, frack, mine or do other damage, not our public lands!

These should have clean air and water for the wildlife and be accessible to the public only in ways that do not destroy these areas. No roads would be good, but if they are already there, then access should be maintained in a way that does little to hurt wildlife (i.e. no snowmobiles, etc.).
