Comments: To me, the peninsula has plenty of trails currently. It seems that adding more is redundant and expensive.

I also find the limiting of trail use in the winter to Paying Customers is unreasonable.

It seems that the annual fee is much too high. Especially when one can ski on Lake Dillon's maintained track for FREE as well as other unmaintained trails throughout the county.

Instead of spending money to expand an already extensive trail system, Why not subsidize the maintenance of the area and open it up to the public?

Put a friendly , welcoming face on Frisco, instead of the frequent and emblazoned "No Trespassing" signs that are posted throughout the area.
